Workshop 1: Center For Food Integrity Engage Training

Jana McGuire

Learn and improve your communication skills and how to engage with the public. Funded by the United Soybean Board, the Center For Food Integrity's Engage Training will teach vital communication skills useful in public speaking, media interviews, daily conversation and more. As public interaction and communication becomes increasingly important, this training will help you develop the skills to do so.

Workshop 2: Career Panel Discussion

Listen and discuss career paths and options with a diverse group of panelists spanning work in different areas of academia, government, and industry.
